

Tempering valve with tankless coil

a temporary valve mixes some of the incoming domestic cold water with the "too hot" water coming out of the tankless coil to bring it down to a temperature suitable for domestic use

